Our Challenge

The shock is over and the deed is done. Obamacare is now law but the fighting has just started. Already the Progressives are digging their trenches in preparation for total war. In a splendidly choreographed opening gambit, Pelosi's outdoor march to the capitol building toting that silly wooden sledgehammer in her hand, with an "in your face" sneering challenge to Americans, she (they) set the stage for what happened today, publicly announced alleged complaints of violence directed against democrat members of congress. Oh, the horror of it! Make no mistake. That is all another lie and will form the basis of government action against conservatives. Recent history is replete with example of 'leftists' committing violent acts in clumsy attempts to blame conservatives. After all, it's the democrats that have the SEIU, muslim radicals, former members of the Weather Underground and Al Sharpton, to commit violence and fabricate tear jerking stories of racial intolerance.

The Republican Party simply does not realize or fails to accept that it is at total war with the very forces that are trying to change America into a socialist state. It's total war, and now that their end is nearly within their grasp they will stop at nothing to reach that goal. Our dimwits are up there warning us against violence as not the American Way. I beg you pardon, but didn't we have a violent revolution that brought forth this very government they are trying to destroy? And didn't we suffer through a four year Civil War, the extreme violence of which cost over 600,000 American lives? Yes, we did on both counts. However, I am sure that if violence comes to this situation, it will be the Left that starts it. The left doesn't tolerate those that fail it!

Our challenge is to recapture the Republican Party first, first by bashing some sense into a few heads, throwing out those that don't comply and re-aligning our thinking to the conservative principles so brilliantly raised by Ronald Reagan. The GOP, over the years has slowly morphed into Democrats lite. They compromised with the Democrats on small issues yielding, one by one, conservative principles to political correctness. They failed to resist the courts becoming law makers and acquiesced to liberal court decisions that would never have passed debate in a legislative body. In a word, they forgot we have a Constitution and Bill of Rights.

If the America we know falls and it becomes just another entitlement driven socialist state, to where will the "tired, huddled masses, yearning to be free" turn? They won't come here. Instead, our shores will be flooded with a continuous influx of non productive, unskilled, uneducated, hungry people yearning to be freeloaders. America will continue importing poverty and soon, the tax spigot will run dry. We are almost bankrupt now (that's Obama's plan actually), but the continued plan to offer entitlements to more and more people not entitled to the same will absolutely ruin us. The health care plan was their first step. Amnesty for illegals will be next followed by Cap and Trade. They know they are hated and they have ten months to move on. Wake up Republican Party, the tidal wave of progressivism is about to engulf us! Go get 'em!
