By George McClellan...The Climatology Debacle

We are in for a severe screwing coming at us from two directions at the same time. First, at the national level here in America, the Democrats are attempting to wrest control of another 16%, more or less, of our personal wealth through their mandated national health care plan. It has already been proven that our health care will not be improved at all by their scheme because services will necessarily be severely diminished and the cost for that reduced service will rise exponentially far and away above what we now pay. Enough time has now elapsed for the entire democrat bill to have been dissected line by line and, in the light of pure reason and common sense, it stands as a complete abomination of all American principles and values. Why would any true freedom loving American politician put his fellow Americans in such jeopardy?

The other screwing that's coming to us, at the International level, is from the United Nations whose continued whole hearted support for the now discredited Global Warming/Climate Change fraud, seeks a huge increase on us in Cap and Trade taxes through international agreements. These taxes represent nothing more than another odious transfer of wealth scheme that will further diminish America's world position and plunge us, as individuals, into penury. The ultimate aim is to force us to succumb to the Socialist dream of a one world government to be lead, of course, by the elite Socialist (Communists) of the United Nations. Obama is facilitating that dream.

In the wake of the catastrophic revelations of the many e-mails between corrupt climate researchers, who apparently wanted to become the High Priests of the Holy Religion of Climatology, and the outside world by the heroic acts of either hackers or insiders (I lean to the latter), the UN, none the less, in a state of denial, continues to insist that man made global warming claims are still valid. The UN's scam to gain world control using global warming as their vehicle is to force world governments into agreements that can only bankrupt the treasuries of wealthy countries, i.e.: the US. The UN's senior climate official, Yvo de Boer, said that while the image of global warming research has been damaged, none the less, to deny that the earth is dangerously warming as a result of man made carbon dioxide emissions is to court disaster. (I did not quote, only paraphrased him). It still remains, he said, an imperative that the dangers must be faced and quick action taken. Say what?. I believe that a stake has just been driven into the heart of the global warming nonsense and that the upcoming Copenhagen conference can be reduced to a simple hot air confab.

The chief US negotiator for the confab, Jonathan Pershing, called the science of global warming "very robust, very substantial". Wow, are they circling the wagons or what? If this climate change business collapses for the fraud it is, as it should, many, many people world wide will be out looking for jobs at hamburger stands. The "Green" industry will go out of business and those poor saps will have to join the rest of us in the unemployment line too. Good for them. As for Mr. Pershing, how about a good session of water boarding?

De Boer said “the Copenhagen conference won’t fail because key nations have already made pledges on emissions and financial assistance.” What key nations? Not China, and certainly not India and, so far, not the United States either. Our incompetent fool of a community organizer President can make all the promises he wants over there but with pressure from grassroots Americans, the Senate will never ratify it. For the moment, that should be our single goal; to insure that any pledges made by the incompetent one, that would result in an International hegemony over the United States of America by the United Nations, should fail fast, decisively and forever.

So, let’s re-cap for a moment: Clearly this global warming business is simply another scheme, at the International level, to transfer wealth from America to a myriad number of poor countries around the world on a grand scale. Couple this with the wealth depleting health care scheme by our same incompetent community organizer and his lackeys in the Congress, America will, if they succeed, be plunged into an economic dark age that will probably last forever. It’s absolutely breathtaking in its audacity and scope. A giant “Ponzi scheme” of the worst order. In consequence, if they succeed, our land will be policed by UN paid third world nation policemen, to dictate to us, by force if necessary, how we will live, work and use our own resources. Our mineral wealth will be extracted and shared with the rest of the world fulfilling the Marxist axiom: ‘From you according to your ability, to you according to your need.’ “America”, they will say, “your needs are less then these poor hut dwellers in the Sudan or tent dwellers in the Sahara, therefore, you must share. It’s only fair!”

Any way, what’s coming now is the Democrats version of socialism for America. It’s food for thought but we still have a way out. It comes to us next year at election time. That is why it is so important for American’s to get involved in the campaign and election process. Learn who our candidates are, what their positions are and hold them to it. Replace the liberals and moderates and vote in true Conservatives who are willing to overhaul the taxing system and make it fair to all American’s. It is the control of taxing that gives politicians their power. That is the lynchpin of their control.

In the meantime, we must work diligently to stop the Health Care and Cap and Trade schemes being foisted on us. Get involved, do something! Go get’em!
